presented by Cheryl Engel

4:00pm – 7:00pm ~ Registration: $55.00

This course will provide an overview of Autism Spectrum Disorders and effective treatment practices. A review of diagnostic categories, etiology, and current research will establish the foundation for this course. Key factors that impact individuals within an educational setting will be discussed (e.g. communication, social skills, executive functioning, sensory, and behavioral characteristics) and support strategies and evidence based teaching methodologies will be presented. Participants will be introduced to functional behavior assessments and how they are used to develop positive behavioral support plans.

This Training is appropriate for:

-  Certified administrators newly assigned to special education positions
-  Those applying for special education certification through the individual transcript
-  Those applying for a special education certificate through the SED TEACH system
-  Parents, professionals or anyone else interested in learning more about autism
