This training meets the NYS Education training requirement for professionals applying for certificates or licensure, including, but not limited to teaching assistants, classroom teachers, school counselors, school psychologists, school social workers, school administrators or supervisors, and superintendents of schools. The Dignity for All Students Act was developed to afford all students in public schools an environment free from harassment, bullying and discrimination. This training is designed to enhance understanding of diversity and multi-cultural environments and examine personal biases. Participants will learn about bullying, cyberbullying, harassment and discrimination as well as indicators, early warning signs, prevention and reporting procedures. Group activities and supporting video will be presented to sensitize participants to the experiences of specific populations and emphasize how school climate and culture have an impact on student achievement and behavior.

~ Our Presenter ~

Charlotte Mennona, MS, SDL

Charlotte is the Program Director of Center for Spectrum Services in Kingston and Ellenville. Charlotte has 25-years of progressive experience and accomplishments in special education as a teacher and administrator.

Her experience over the years has included working in both private and public sectors in urban, suburban, and rural settings. She has worked in high-need, low-resource districts, and affluent districts alike. Over the years she has worked in a variety of capacities.

Charlotte earned an M.S. in Students with Disabilities from Mount St. Mary College, and an M.S. in Educational Leadership and Administration from the College of Saint Rose. Charlotte believes that a successful learning environment can be achieved through the use of Multi-Tiered Systems of Support for all learners; Advocating for the whole child approach to education, ensuring that race, economics and disability are not predictors of student achievement.
